CHARLES B. PAGE ELECTED

RESULT OF THE CANVASS OF THE XVIITH SENATE DISTRICT.

A HOT DISPUTE IN THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN-TOM" GRADY AND A. R. CONKLING

The Aldermen, as county canvassers, sat until to and including the XXIIId Assembly District. mounced by the police enumerators on Election

The returns of the three Assembly districts com posing the XVIIth Senate District had been carefully watched throughout by the counsel and friends of both Mr Page and Senator O'Sullivan, and when canvass of the last Assembly district, the XIXth, was completed it was found that not in a single election district had the returns from the Clerk's office, to which the Tammany Aldermen had frantically adhered, varied from the police returns. Mr. Page was therefore elected by a plufallty over the Tammany candidate of 21-the figure the Republicans have all along claimed. The desperate factics of Tammary are not yet, owever, at an end. The progress of the canvass as developed many hundreds of defective balloss the XVIIth District, and if a sufficient num per of these could be utilized for Mr. O'Sullivan a crifficate of election might be secured for him.

Wr. O'Sullivan, therefore, filed a protest, alleging pat a large number of ballots which were marked for him were unlawfully thrown out as "defective. the Committee on Contests will meet this mornargument on the O'Sullivan protest, The et of the Tammany managers is to lay grounds gossible for a mandamus from the Supreme Court ting the Board of Canvassers to canvass th "Meterlive" ballots, which O'Sullivan contends are mid. A number of election inspectors of the XVIIth District have been summoned to appear before the committee to give testimony and explanaums regarding the "defective" ballous. The Republican counsel of Mr. Page are satisfied that more of the Tammany schemes will "work," and that Mr. Page cannot be deprived of his certificate of first real excitement connected with the can rass of the New-York County vote in the Common Council Chamber occurred yesterday when the XVIIIn Senate District was reached. The closeness of the vote between Charles B. Page, Republican, Smator in that district, precipitated a lively row, and almost created a riot. Things became so hot at one stage of the proceedings that a personal col-lision was imminent between Thomas F. Grady, who Mr. O'Sullivan, and Alfred R. Conkling. who acted for Mr. Page. When the uproar was ever, and it became evident that the returns from the County Clerk's office did not vary a figure les Department-the latter electing Mr. Pagethe antagonists on both sides concluded that they had allowed themselves to get excited to little pur presented was of such importance that it sho laid over until a full attendance of the Board was Alderman Olcott offered the following resolution

Resolved, That, in accordance with the amend ment of 1895, this Board of County Canvassers decare the result of the canvass to be as stated in the police returns, wherever they differ from the implicate statement.

rman Lantry offered an amendment to the resolution providing for postponement of action Just as Mr. Oakley called for the "Ayes." Alderman Goodman (Rep.) asked for a rollcall, but it was not allowed. Then Goodman appealed from me decision of the Chair, and the appeal was reputated by a vote of it to 8.

Lantry's amendment was then lost by the same vote, and later the original resolution was passed. The Republicans were congratulating themselves over their generaliship in whipping their forces out to easily, and in the hubbun that followed Alderman Goodwin moved a recess until 1 o clock. The guestion was put and declared carried before the Republicans knew what they were considering.

As the ruling was announced, cries of "Czar!" "Another Reed!" and other appellations were yelled at Alderman Oakley.

A resolution was their passed offered by Alderman Brown, that henceforth sixteen votes will be required to pass any resolution other than the actual count of votes for cardidates. The Tammany men, with the O'Brien help, count on sixteen votes against the fifteen Republicans.

Alderman Olcott tried to get a protest on the minimum of the second of the high-landed action, taken in the morning. It was not handed action taken in the morning it was not to the Committee on Protests, and it was lost.

They say that the trouble lies in the fact that the Spaniards are playing a defensive part by remaining in the heavily guarded cities, while the whole island has been given over to the insurgents. The Spaniards dare not venture out into the open, they declare. All over the island the planters, under orders from the revolutionists, have stopped grinding cane, and that has thrown thousands of men into idleness and they have taken up arms in the ranks of the insurgents. From private advices received it is said that Gomez and Campos are only about five miles apart now, that they are warlly watching each other, and that the clash may come almost any day. The Junta members wish to get the expedition now being fitted out into Cuba before this battle is fought, and they are pushing the work rapidly on this acard Gibb, F. M. Ware, Joseph E. Widener, W. On October 13, in that year, with 150 men, he entered the district of Yara, where the battle cry was given. He first entered the campaign with the rank of Brigadier-General, under General Gomez. With a small force he took the city of Holguin by assault. His whole military career was one of brilliancy, and he was always known as a brave and daring fighter. He was victorious in a number of important engagements, and at the battle of Santa Maria he compelled the Spanish force to surrender, capturing 600 Garden last week. the Spanish force to surrender, capturing over prisoners.

On December 2, 1873, General Garcia, with twenty men, attended a parliament with Spanish officers, and in a treacherous way was surreunded, and was compelled to fight. Seeing no chance to escape, his own men being shot, he attempted to commit suicide, shooting himself through the head, the scar from which he carries to-day. He recovered and was sent to Spain, to the Valencia Castle, where he was kept until the Zanjon peace was declared.

General Garcia then returned to New-York, and at the outbreak of the small rebellion in Cuba in 1879, which lasted one year, he became the Commander-in-Chief of the army in the field. At the close of that war he went to Paris, and has been there ever since then.

The other three are young men of wealth and less than a year ago were exiled from Cuba. They were captured fighting in the field, but their family influence was enough to save them from death upon the promise to leave the country. They are taking their lives in their hands, for when they left Madrid they forfeited all right to demency. These four patriots, so it is said, are to be at the head of the filibustering expedition which is now being fitted out. They, of course, will not admit this, although the statement was secured from a trustworthy source. A delegation of the Cuban Junta met the patriots at the steamer. In the party were Señor Palma, Gonzales Quesada, Benjamin Guerra, Henrique Trujillo and Dr. Menocal. The greeting on the deck was a warm one. General Garcia drove to the home of Dr. Menocal, at No. 229 West Forty-fourth-st. When seen there later he was extremely reticent in speaking of his plans. He said, simply: "Cuba's cry for help came to me across the ocean, and I have come to help my brothers in their fight for freedom. My plans have not been determined upon as yet, but I will not remain in New-York for any length of time. I expect to start for Cuba in a day or so."

they did was to wait until the vigilance of the authorities was relaxed and then they bought tickets to Paris and fied. They had found General Garcia living quietly in Madrid, but when he heard their stories of Spanish cruettes, he at once volunteered to go with them. They admit that they broke their parole, but they say that the end justified the means.

The Cuban Junta will confer with these patriots within a day or two and determine upon a line of action. The report that General Bartolino Masso, vice-president of the recently created Cuban Republic, is in the city is declared to be untrue. Cuban Republic, is in the city is decared to generic.

The Cuban leaders will not talk about the printed statements that they are about to issue bonds to secure money to carry on the war. They say the issue would have to be made by the Constitutional Convention in Cuba, but that they know of no such move. The floating of any Cuban bonds was regarded in Wall Street yesterday as an impossibility. The general sentiment was that even were the Cuban Republic established, to say nothing of the present condition of affairs in Cuba, no investor in the bonds would be found in the Street. Princeton, N. J., Nov. 18.—The work of the Princeton football team in to-day's practice game fell far below the standard desired by its supporters. During the first half the scrub team outplayed the 'Varsity eleven, Lloyd securing a touchdown for the former by breaking through Tyler and blocking Ayres's punt. Suter has recovered from his injuries, and to-day he was again stationed behind the line and played one of his best games. Baird has improved so that he was able to practise punting and kicking goals for half an hour to-day. Kelly is making great progress at half, and is likely to repiace Armstrong unless the latter should show great improvement. One of the greatest faults in the general work of the team to-day was the failure of the backs to follow their interference. Pill Klins, Harry Brown, Jesse Riggs, Johnny Poe and "Beef" Wheeler assisted in the coaching.

THEIR AMATEUR STANDING IN DANGER-THE MEETING OF THE AMATEUR ATHLETIC UNION RESULTS ALSO IN A RULE AGAINST PROFESSIONAL COACHES

AND BASEBALL BATTERIES. One of the liveliest meetings of the Amateur Athletic Union held in long time took place at the Astor House yesterday. The session lasted from early in the afternoon until late last night. Delegates were present from all parts of the country. At the meeting of the old Board of Governors the treasurer's report was read, which showed that the organization was in better shape financially than many supposed. The receipts for the year were $1,371 32, the expenses $1,061 28, leaving a balance hand of $30.34. H. McMillan, Julius Harder and James E. Sullivan composed the old Board.

When the regular meeting of the A. A. U. was called the following associations were represented: Metropolitan, Atlantic, New-England, North American G. U. and the Pacific Association. The North Side A. C., of Allegheny, which held a boxing tournament over which there was a dispute, sent to the Union a check for $75, although its own figures showed that it owed the Union $149 92. All the committees and officials who had had anything to do with the show have been suspended.

The old rule which permitted clubs to employ professional batteries for baseball and couches for football teams was thrown out.

W. J. Wefers, the amateur champion sprinter; W Hickok, the Yale hammer-thrower, and C Stage, the sprinter and baseball umpire, are in ho Hickok and Stage cannot compete until their suspensions have been removed, and they must reinquish claim to all medals won recen athletes who finished second to them. Wefers will be declared a professional as soon as he starts in an amateur contest for receiving that purse of $300 when he returned to his home after the interna-

The union cast a bombshell into the camp of the athletes by passing a resolution aimed against training tables and the custom of paying travelling and training expenses. It was the sense of the meeting that an athlete who has no visible means of support cannot longer pose as an amateur.

The new Board of Governors then met. They are as follows: J. E. Sullivan, W. J. Linehan, H. Mcas follows: J. F. Salvan, vol. 1. Salvan, william, E. E. Babb, Walter Stimpson and Julius Harder. The election of officers resulted as follows: H. McMillan, president; J. W. Kelly, treasurer; J. Harder and W. Stimpson, vice-presidents, and J. E. Sallivan, secretary. The committees for the year are as follows:

Finance-Harder, Raymond and Stimpson, Schedule-Sullivan, Stimpson and Harder, Athletic Rules-Stimpson, Lineham and Kelly, Trial and Reinstatement-Sullivan, Kelly

Babb.
Records—McMillan, Sullivan and Stimpson.

It is probable that an alliance will be formed between the union, the Amateur Athletic Association of England, and the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada. A committee was appointed whose work will be much like that done by the Racing Board of the League of American Wheelmen. It will have full power to suspend athletes and to investigate rumors relating to their standling. The committee will be as follows: J. E. Sullivan, J. W. Kelly, E. E. Babb and C. P. Curtiss. The Amateur Athletic Union and the League of American Wheelmen will hereafter recognize the suspensions made by either organization.

The ten-mile championship run and the two-mile steeplechase will be held at the games of the New-Jersey Athletic Club at the Madison Square Garden on February 1. ing. The committee will be as follows: J. E. Sul-

A PRIEST INDICTED FOR ARSON

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 18.-The news that the John M. Fitzgerald, John and Nora Cronin and Frank Light, all charged with arson, would be called in the Court of Sessions this morning crowded the rooms, but the spectators were not prepared for the surprise which the District-Attorney had in store. This was no less than the announcement of another indictment against Father Fitzgerald, harging him with arson in the first degree in setting fire to the parochial schoolhouse at Charlotte The previous indictment was for arson in the second degree. The arraignment of the Cronins and Father Fitzgerald was postponed until to-morrow morning. Father Fitzgerald was pastor of the Holy Cross Catholic Church in Charlotte, and was removed pending the investigation by Hisnop McQuade.

PLAN FOR AN INTERCOLLEGIATE UNION OF WHEELMEN.

CHIEF CONSUL POTTER SPEAKS ABOUT RACING MEN JOINING THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN

The Columbia College Union has appointed a committee to confer with the different colleges, members of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association, with the view of forming an intercollegiate cycling union and if the union is formed all collegiate cycling contests will be held under its auspices.

"I saw the suggestion in The Tribune this morning about racing men joining the League of Ameriing about racing men joining the League of American Wheelmen," said Chief Consul Potter yesterday, "and I think it a good one. While some of the riders may not be considered desirable members, still the league does much for them and in return gets nothing. I think that a good plan would be to arrange it so there would be a rebate given to the racing men who are members of the league from the entries."

The athletic games and bicycle races to be held y the 13th Regiment, of Brooklyn, will be held on November 30, instead of on the 23d. It is thought that the entries in the two-mile bloycle race will reach seventy, and it has been decided that the racing path in the armory must be strewn with rosin to make it safe.
